CINCINNATI, 3; NEW YORK (N. L.), 2. Close games are so common this year as to he the rule rather than the exception. game between the New York Nationals and Cincinnatis yesterday was close, but it was not commonplace. The Reds won it, and an error by Bill Dahlen aided and abetted in the defeat of the locals. It was a needless eart of an error that Dahlen made. He meant well, but a famous geographical spot s paved with good intentions. Still Bill had put his side in the lead the inning before ith a home run, so there is no kick coming his day's performances. As a matter of fact there was the left handed

As a matter of fact there was the left handed optiching of Hahn to create confusion in the New York camp. After being hit hard in he first inning Hahn was effective in all the sthers. His control was absolutely without plemish. Also he had unsullied support. It he Reds' fielding was steady and swift. Taylor pitched a first class game for New Bork, except that one of his bases on balls round up in a run.

York, except that one of his bases on balls would up in a run.

The Reds had three men on bases in the first inning, but no runs resulted. Huggins singled, but was out stealing. Donlin's fly out was followed by a Gilbertian fumble and a base on balls, then Gilbert threw Dolan out. Considering the lavishness with which they served base hits in the first inning the New Yorks reaped very sparingly. Browne touched off a three-bagger to right, and Deslin straightway scored him with a single. McGann sacrificed. Bresnahan sent a fly to left which netted the batter two bases, but yielded Devlin only one. The latter had to wait to see whether the ball would be caught or not. Doulin lost it in the sun, but fielded it in and held Devlin. Mertes flied to Corceran and Dahlen hit to Corcoran, so a triple, a single and a double meant only one run.

Bowerman bunted very skilfully in the second inning, but Taylor's attempt to do likewise was fraught with disaster. Taylor bunted a fly to Hahn, who with malice aforethought tossed the ball to Kelley before Bowerman could return to first. The first man up for the Reds in the third and fourth innings hit safely only to be left. Huggins singled in the third and Donlin sacrificed, but Kelley and Seymour sent up easy flies. Dolan cracked a three-bagger to left in the fourth and stayed at third while Dahlen and Taylor threw out the rext three batters.

McGann's two bagger in the sixth with only one out looked good, but of late the bunching of hits seems a lost art. A perpendicular fly and a delicate tap to Hahn followed the two bagger. The Reds made their first run in the sixth. Kelley walked, stole second as Bowerman was slow in launching his throw, and Seymour beat out an infield hit. Dolan fanned, but Kelley walked, stole second as Bowerman was slow in launching his throw, and Seymour beat out an infield hit. Dolan fanned, but Kelley walked, stole second as Bowerman was slow of hird. Browne made a splendid running catch of Dolan's line smash to right, Kelley walked, stole second as B

Time—1 hour and 55 minutes. Attendance—7,000. BROOKLYN, 5; PITTSBURG, 4.

The liveliest game seen at Washington Park this season took place there yesterday between the Brooklyns and Pittsburgs, and the Brooklyns won it in the twelfth inning. There was good, free hitting, and on Pittsburg's side errorless fielding. The Brooklyns made a good many errors, but also did their share of good playing. A base on balls to Beaumont, an out and Wagner's single gave the Pirates a run in the third. Brooklyn at once tied the score on Ritter's infield hit, Poole's sacrifice and Lumley's lam. Hits by Leach and Beaumont and Dobbs's fumble gave Pittsburg a run in the fifth. In the sixth the Brooklyns scored twice on Jacklisch's hit, Jordan's base on balls and singles by Babb and McCormick.

Wild throws by McCormick and Dobbs, mixed up with safeties by Clarkeand Wagner, contrived to create two runs in the seventh and to put the Pirates one run ahead. The Brooklyns tied the score in the eighth with successive two-baggers by Babb and McCormick. The Brooklyns improved as the game progressed. They pulled out of tight holes in the tenth, eleventh and twelfth innings. Sheckard's single gave Brooklyn the winning run. The score:

JOHN F. WINS MAY STAKES. HOLLAND'S FAST SPRINTER

LEADS ALL THE WAY. Brigand and Illyria Best Andy Williams Prohibitive Favorite, in the Handleap Shot Gun First by a Neck-Blandy

The May Stakes, for three-year-olds, at about ax furlongs, was the feature of the racing at Gravesend yesterday, where 10,000 persons watched the various events decided in the sloppy mud. E. E. Smathers's Die Bernard was the choice, although he went back from 8 to 5 to 2 to 1, while J. L. Holland's John F., and Bob Murphy were backed down from fours to threes. W. M. Sheftel's Major Pelham was second in favor at 5 to 2. When it came to racing, however, there was nothing to it but John F., who rushed to the front with Missing Link. The latter blew up on the turn and John F romped away from Seymour, backed down to sixes, and beat him by three lengths in 1:12. Seymour was five lengths in front of Dick Bernard, who was off poorly and had numerous obstacles to overcome before he could cinch third money by length and a half over Steelmaker, 40 to 1, who ran for the first time in the colors of his first race, a handicap for all ages, at about six furlongs, because he did not believe the big Watercress colt could carry 147 pounds and win in the muddy going. The talent therefore made W. B. Jennings's Shot Gun, with 126 pounds, a 4 to 5 favorite, and he landed the money by a nose in a hard drive. Hildebrand coming up on the rail with Jack Ratlin, 5 to 1, with a strong burst of speed. King Pepper, 4 to 1, was five lengths behind. The time was 1:11 3-5.

W. S. Fanshawe's Mirthful colt, Rubric,

8 to 5 favorite, was badly beaten in the second race, for two-year-olds, at five and a half furlongs. Leo Swatt's Ike S., a son of the mud-running Esher, was a galloping winner by four lengths, with 12 to 1 about him. Bullman let him down at the head of the stretch and he ran over Sidney Paget's Goldfleur, 2 to 1, and F. R. Docter's Noralight, 30 to 1, as if they were standing still. It was a drive for the place, Goldfleur getting it from Noralight by a neck. The time was 1:10 4-5. With Africander scratched from the handicap at a mile and a quarter, E. R. Thomas's Andy Williams was a prohibitive favorite at 11 to 20. He gave eighteen pounds to James Galway's Brigand 5 to 2 and nineteen to Father Bill Daly's Illyria, 8 to 1, both of whom were played to beat the Kingstock horse. The latter was ridden by Helgerson, as both Redfern and H. Phillips, the regular stable jockeys, were on the ground. Illyria made the pace for nearly three-quarters of a mile, when Brigand, under Hildebrand's expert handling, shot to the front. Andy Williams was a poor third coming around the turn and did not begin to make up the ground until the last furlong pole was reached. Brigand, meanwhile, sailed along in front and won easily by a length in 2:11 4-5, Illyria beating Andy Williams by three parts of a length. Newton Bennington's Blandy, who gave weight to his company and was a 4 to 5 favorite, made all the running in the fifth event, for two-year-olds, at five furlongs, and won handly by a length from J. L. McGinnis's Austin Allen, a 40 to 1 shot, who was whipped by Bullman all through the stretch and beat Bill Daly's Amberjack, 25 to 1, by a head. The time was 1:03 3-5.

A poor lot of maidens ran in the last race at a mile and a sixteenth. The Cricket, 11 to 5 favorite, went to the front on the far turn and won in a drive by a head from J. L. McGinnis's Brooklynite, 12 to 1, who would have beaten him in a few more jumps. St Gallen, 8 to 1, was third, two lengths away. The time was 1:54 3-5. Three favorites, a second and a third choice were successful.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK.

AFRICANDER MAY START IN BIG ST. LOUIS HANDICAP.

Charley Dwyer Says It All Depends on the Star Ruby Colt's Showing in the Suburban-Tod Sloan Wants to Ride Here Again-Jack McGinnie's Good Things.

Charley Dwyer said yesterday that Africander will in all probability start 850.000 World's Fair Handicap at St. Louis. It all depends on how the colt comes out the Suburban," said he. "If he pulls up up in good share and runs up to expectations. we will ship him to St. Louis, as we are in for $400 in forfeits already and it looks as if we ought to go ahead. Africander ran very much improved race yesterday and i coming to his old form rapidly." With McChesney and Africander both in the World's Fair, the big race will be of unusual interest to the Eastern racing public, and if E. R. Thomas should decide to send Hermis along too there would be plenty to talk about after the affair had been decided.

Tod Sloan made his appearance at the track yesterday and renewed old acquaintances. He says that he intends to find out how he stands with the powers that be and if things are favorable he will make a formal application to the Jockey Club for a license. Sloan says that he was persecuted on the other side and that his victory in the courts against the French turf authorities sufficient vindication to permit him to re-resume riding in this country. Sloan has been out of the saddle for a number of years. but he has not taken on much weight, and declares that he could get down to the required avoirdupois in a few days if called upon. He intends to remain in this country

Jack McGinnis came near winning a fortun e yesterday. He spread his commission over his colt Austin Allen at 40 and 50 to 1 in the fifth race, and the Gonsalvo colt showed a sudden form reversal and ran second to Blandy As Burns was on the ground Bull-man had the mount, and also rode McGinnis's Brooklynite, backed by his owner at 12 to 1, in the last race. Brooklynite only lost by a head. Bullman also rode two winners. Ike S and John F., and enjoyed the most successful day he has had this season in the saddle. Charley Gates bet $100 on Ike S. at 10 to 1, and smiled all over when the Esher colt romped home in the mud.

The stewards reprimanded Jockey Hildebrand for rough riding in the first race. He rode Jack Ratlin and jammed Lord of the Valley to the rail, Cormack having his leg crushed. The latter made a complaint to the stewards after the race.

Lots of people thought that Odom did not see Jack Ratlin steal up on the rail when Shot Gun was hurrying down the stretch in the opening event, and for that reason Odom sail that he saw Ratlin all the time, yet simply rode Shot Gun out to the last few yards, where he used his whip, because the Artillery colt does not run kindly under long punishment. Shaw rode King Pepper in weak style.

If he had clung to the rail with the Kantaka gelding, as Hildebrand did with Ratlin, he could not have been worse than second. Ratlin, by the way, got a new lease on life, for P. J. dorman, his owner, said before the race that if the Spendthrift horse did not nish third or better he would be disposed of without further delay. August Belmont's Fire Eater was played to show in the first race, but he ran in his usual sulky fashion.

A mild killing was framed up with F. R. Docter's Noralight, a filly by Lamplighter—Sayonora, who was played down to 30 to 1 in the second event and ran third, beaten a CHICAGO, June 3.—Getaway day at Hawthorne this afternoon drew a good crowd to the races. The weather was fine and the track was fast. As three favorties and two second choices were among the winners, the talent had decidedly the best of the bookmakers. The feature of the day, aside for the bookmakers. The May Stakes was first run in 1895. The winners were: Ridicule, Refugee, Cleophus, George Keene, A. N. B., Trumpet, The Regent, Delagoa and W. R. Condon, owned by vesterday. Previous to 1900 the distance was six furlongs. The record for the stakes at about six furlongs is 1:10 1-5, made by James R. Keene's Delagoa in 1902.

W. M. Sheftel sold Steelmaker to F. Ambrose Clark several days ago. Mr. Clark evidently intends to use the Albert colt in jumping races. Mr. Sheftel was represented in vesterday's stakes by Major Pelham, who finished a couple of lengths behind Steel maker. A. McL. Earlocker, assistant secretary the Saratoga Association, sends word to THE SUN that there is no truth in the coming meeting at the Springs are to be raised. He states that they will remain the same as last year—grand stand and paddock, $3; ladies, $1.50, and field, 75 cents.

Cormack has been engaged to ride W. B. Jennings's Proper in the Suburban Handicap. Proper, it will be remembered, ran a great race in the Brooklyn Handicap, fin-ishing third after a chapter of accidents. He has since been well backed in the future

Newton Bennington, John W. Gates and all of the heavy players loaded the books up with Blandy money, which was easy, as the race turned out. Martha Gorman, who beat Belle Strome on Wednesday, was a receding second choice in this event and she ran a decidedly poor race. S. S. Brown's Agile, who was backed down to fours, evidently did not relish the going. Sir Shep and Memphis were warm tips in Oliver did not take Hazelwood to Chicago after all and that the colt will not start in the Derby. He is at Sheepshead Bay and is not in shape to stand hard training just Mars Cassidy, who will do the starting at Buffalo, leaves for the scene of action to-day.

Two hundred yearlings bred by James B. Haggin at his Elmendorf and Rancho del Haggin at his Elmendorf and Rancho del Paso stock farms arrived at Sheepshead Bay yesterday morning. They stood the long railroad journey very well.

Somebody forgot to have R. I.. Rose's colors at the track, so Reliance ran in the colors of Fred Buriew, who trains him.

John J. Ryan said that if the track had been good he would have started Reliable, even with the crushing impost of 147 pounds. And he could have won, too!" said the noted, plunger, with a smile.

GEN. SPENCER EXPLAINS. Further Defence of Use of Special Barrels

by American Riflemen. Riflemen are still talking of the charges that have been made by the Birtish Rifle Asso-ciation against the American team for using pecial barrels on their rifles in the shoot last ummer at Bisley for the Palma trophy. Gep. Bird W Spencer, president of the National Rifle Association, lives at Passaic. He gave out a statement about the controversy in which he said that an article was published in a Washington newspaper last summer which said that the American team did not use regulation arms. After the publication of that article Col. C. R. Crosse, the secretary of the National Rifle Association of Britain, wrote to the National Rifle Asso-ciation of America asking for an explanation. In that letter Col. Crosse said that he asked for this simply because he wanted to dispel the doubts that had arisen in conection with the match.

This letter was submitted to the directors of the National Rifle Association of America at a meeting held on Jan. 19, and the reply at a meeting held on Jam. 19, and the reply sent was:

"The American team was equipped with two rifles, both of Government standard, model of 1892, but to one of the rifles was attached a barrel, which barrel conformed in rifling to the new army rifle, which was not yet obtainable, and instructions were given to Col. Bruce, the captain of the team, at the last moment before sailing that if there was the slightest objection to the use of the rifles to which were attached the special barrels, his team was to discard them and use the old model rifles taken with them. At a meeting of the directors of the National Rifle Association of America on Jan. 19, 1904, Col. Bruce distinctly stated that the character of the rifles which were used was thoroughly understood by every team captain, and no objection whatever was raised; further, that it was known by everybody that these rifles were to be used by the American team; also that the rifles referred to were freely passed over to officers and members of other teams in the competition for examination and trial if desired."

Gen. George Wingate, vice-president of the National Rifle Association of America and captain of the first American team to compete for the Palma trophy, said yesterday:

"The American team was captained by Col. Leslie C. Bruce, and when it went to the other side it carried two sets of rifles. One of these was the regular Krag-Jorgensen and the other was the same arm with a specially made barrel. These barrels were made because the barrels on the regular arm being turned out in great numbers are apt to vary a little, but enough to make a great difference in a long distance match. All this, however, was open and above board. When the team reached England no secret was made of the two sets of barrels, and instructions were that the special barrels and there was no objection. Every one knew that our team was using special barrels and there was no objection. Every one knew that our team was using special barrels and there was no objection. Some timelast fal sent was:
"The American team was equipped with barrele, but each being of Government pattern.

Dr. W. B. Short, a corporal of the Seventh Regiment, and one of the members of the American team, said that the arms and ammunition used were according to Government specifications. He declared that Col.
Crosse had told him that the English team used a specially made barrel, but after it had been made it was sent to the Government arsenal for inspection and was approved and stamped with the Government mark.

Many riflemen condemn the use of special barrels in shooting competitions, but they declined to discuss the trouble.

wo Negroes Fight, With Jack Johnson the Winner. CHICAGO, June 3 .- Jack Johnson of California received the decision over Frank fornia received the decision over Frank Childs, the local heavyweight negro fighter, here last night. The fight was a very tame affair all the way through, with Johnson at all times being the aggressor and having the better of the fight.

Childs was knocked down twice during the bout and was all but out when the referee award ed the fight to the colored man from the Pacific Coast at the termination of the sixth round.

LEMAIRE ET PARIS

It is quality that has made the name Lemaire famous. See that this name, spelled L-E-M-A-I-R-E (as above), is on the end and around the eye piece of every Opera and Field Glass you buy; otherwise you will buy worthless imitations. For sale by all responsible dealers
